

It looks as if everyone is here, so just a quick count to confirm that no one has 'nipped' into an appealing shop enroute! Yes, all here.

Coffee time (did I hear a few gasps)? "Thank goodness for that" is heard coming from the back row, it's always those at the back!

"May I suggest the following places, they are all within a five minute radius of here, and you should have no

trouble
locating

possibilities; ca-fes, coffee shops
whilst some are national there is a good selection
of 'local' businesses".

one from the handout I gave you at Hereford
station."

"Hereford has a large selection of
refreshment

The Regency
Cafe is in St
Peter's Square; just look for the church tower
rising above
the roofline."

“Then there is the La Madeline, which is a Quaint French cafe chain serving rustic country fare, espresso & fresh-baked baguettes. You will find it in Church Street, and it also has a nice outdoor area to the rear of the premises.”

“If you fancy a more rustic style of premises, then the Sensory & Rye is a nice example of the style.

It is conveniently located in Union Street.”

“Just a few of the other coffee places around here It is down to you and your tastes to decide!!”

And for those of you who need something a little stronger and longer, how about “The time is now 10.50.

Please meet back here at the statue at 11.50 when we will visit the Black and White Museum just behind us. If you are early, then please go on in as soon as you arrive. We will depart from in front of the museum at 12.40 for lunch.”
