

After a pleasant walk we see Verdi's cafe, though it seems a bit crass to call it a cafe. they call it a
CAFFE*GELATERIA*RISTORANTE

which is much nicer, and of course with that description you can 'up' the prices!
 Nearly there getting a bit darker now.

Now Verdi's comes highly recommended by several of our group, I was first introduced to it via Colin and Linda who often come here when in the area.
 There is a very nice set of tables outdoors facing the bay if the weather is good enough.

with many more in a more sheltered area.

I expect that most of you will head indoors first, as of course you will want to check what the ice creams and cakes are like! "And why not" says Nicola.

Of course there is a wine list, but perhaps just one glass too far??

Is this one for ME!!??

Time to meet up with the others outside the Bistro, and from there catch the bus to Swansea bus station.

We walk through the car park to that little pathway we came down those pleasant hours ago.

Across the Mumbles Road and just a little bit further is the bus stop where the No 2A collects us.

Nice view from the bus stop, but we hope the bus is on time.

It is and we are on our way. Some of you might remember the St Helen's ground?

Into the bus station after coming through some of the city centre streets

Just in time to catch the last bus back to Cardiff. Let's count you on all present and correct.

And so we leave the bus station and all that remains of our day is to fall asleep on the coach back home!!

Well, nearly.

I have just asked Liz if she would provide the entertainment at our Christmas lunch, to which she agreed.

How did this happen?

Whilst waiting for the bus at Mumbles, Liz was standing next to me.

"Mario, you remember the belly dancers in the centre"?

"Yes".

"Well I used to do belly dancing a few years ago"!

Bingo!!!!

Liz is booked.

Take care all of you and I hope you enjoyed your day.
